FAQ'S

Can I have music during my ceremony?

Yes, we have inbuilt speakers in both licensed spaces. It is recommended that you provide a playlist for entrance, signing of registrar and exit music. People should avoid singing, shouting, raising voices and/or playing music at a volume that makes normal conversation difficult or that may encourage shouting. This is because of the potential for increased risk of transmission from aerosol and droplets.

How many people can I have at my wedding ceremony?

Up to 15 people, but no more, can attend a marriage or civil partnership, where this can be safely accommodated with social distancing in a COVID-19 venue. This maximum number includes all those at the ceremony, including the couple, witnesses, and guests. Anyone working is not included as part of the limit on attendees. Where an infant is involved in proceedings a parent/guardian or member of the infant's household should hold the infant.

Am I able to have a musical instrument at the ceremony?

You are advised only to play musical instruments that are not blown into. Organs can be played for a ceremony, as well as general maintenance, but should be cleaned thoroughly before and after use.

FAQ'S

Is RSA House safe to host ceremonies during Covid-19?

The venue is following the government guidelines on how to work safely during Covid-19, we will be putting all procedures in place to safely open the venue. The safety of our staff and guests is our top priority. Please see our helpful document and video which outline some of the measures we are putting in place to ensure it is safe for our guests and staff when we re-open and what to expect when hosting a future event with us at RSA House.

We are using the term 'physical distancing' as opposed to 'social distancing' because our business is built on social interactions.

All individuals involved in the ceremony (including attendees, guests and officiants) should be signposted to the current stay alert and social distancing guidance and that they or members of their household should not attend the marriage or civil partnership if they are unwell with symptoms of COVID-19. If either member of the couple have symptoms of COVID-19 the ceremony should not go ahead.
